Infertility & NaProTECHNOLOGY

- Infertility is symptom of an underlying cause. The diseases that cause infertility hinder the functioning of fertility & cause both short and long-term health problems.
- NaProTECHNOLOGY — treatment of infertility that works cooperatively with a woman's body & fertility
- It uses the information gathered from the Creighton Model chart to diagnose and treat all underlying causes of infertility.
- The ultimate goal of treatment is the restoration of health to the couple while respecting the new life that may result.

- The success rate for NaProTechnology for couples with infertility through charting the FertilityCare System alone with fertility-focused intercourse is 20-40% with no medical intervention.
- The success rate for NaProTechnology in infertility is up to 80% with charting, fertility focused intercourse and medical or surgical restorative treatment
- NaProTracking and fertility-focused intercourse allows couples to begin treatments for infertility within six months of difficulty conceiving instead of waiting twelve months as is traditionally prescribed.
- NaProTechnology can also help women experiencing menstrual cramps, PMS, ovarian cysts, irregular/abnormal bleeding, PCOS, recurrent miscarriages, postpartum depression, & hormone abnormalities.
